WALL STREET PREPARED FOR HARRIMAN'S DEATH

Great Personal Sorrow Was Expressed, But Financier's Demise Causes No Anxiety as to Future.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Mr. Harriman's death comes at a time when in general the business affairs of the country are in excellent condition, with a realization of those bountiful crops which he himself, in one of his last notable interviews, prophesied would be one of the greatest sustaining factors of American credit.

With these facts in mind, and the general knowledge that Mr. Harriman in any event could not long continue his active career, Wall street had already prepared itself for the end which came yesterday. There was no feeling of shock or alarm, therefore, when the announcement came, beyond the sentiment of universal personal sorrow, and as the hours progressed it became evident that there was a general feeling of security and even of serenity as to the future.

For a time there was some talk among the leaders of finance as to the desirability of informally conferring, but even this precaution was deemed unnecessary.

No Change of Policy.

The representative men of Wall street left for their homes about the usual hour yesterday afternoon. Such prominent figures as J. P. Morgan, Jacob H. Schiff, James Stillman, and George W. Perkins went to their various homes without concerted action.

It is believed by Harriman's associates that the railroad system, which he organized and carried forward to such a degree of success, will be continued with practically no change of policy and that plans to that end were perfected by Mr. Harriman long before his death.

There were numerous reports current in financial quarters during the afternoon concerning the status of the vast properties under Mr. Harriman's direction, one of these reports being that his securities of these railroad properties of which he was the head had been trusted and were held intact for the greater safety of his estate, and the properties concerned. However, there was no authoritative opinion forthcoming upon this report or upon the general disposition to be made of his property.

His Personal Wealth.

Recent estimates of Harriman's personal wealth have varied all the way from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000. He was of course a large holder of securities of the various corporations with which he was identified, including in addition to the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific systems, over a score of smaller or tributary properties, not only in this country, but in Mexico as well. Report credited him with large personal holdings in the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad, Baltimore and Ohio, Delaware and Hudson, Erie, Illinois Central, New York Central and Pacific Mail Steamship Company. His holdings of Brooklyn Rapid Transit stock and bonds were very large a few years ago. He was reported to have been the largest individual stockholder in the Wells Fargo Express Company, which only recently acquired a virtual monopoly of the express business in Mexico.

Mr. Harriman's real estate holdings in this city were comparatively small. His home at Arden is said to represent an outlay of $2,000,000.

BRIDEGROOM SHOT AND BRIDE IS HELD

TRAGEDY MARKS HONEYMOON OF THE SPRAGUES.

Married Just Two Weeks, Sprague Is Shot While in Bed With Bride,
Who Is Held on Suspicion.

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 10.—Mystery surrounds the shooting and death early yesterday of Scott Sprague, who came to this city from Williamsburg, Ohio, and his bride of two weeks is being held by the police on suspicion.

The shooting occurred in the sleeping room occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Sprague at 225 West Eighth Street. The bullet entered Sprague's right side, penetrating his liver and lung. The location of the wound is said to be an unusual one to be self-inflicted, and this, taken with the fact that there were blood spots on Mrs. Sprague's night gown, caused the police to place a charge of suspicion against her.

Mrs. Sprague said she was awakened by the shot and found her husband lying huddled up in a corner of the bedroom in his night clothes.

She declared her husband had no enemies, and she knew of no reason why he should have shot himself.

Mrs. Sprague is the daughter of Frank Criss of Rockford, Ill., and was married to Sprague two weeks ago in Chicago.

COTTON IN THIS MARKET.

Staple Is Moving Fairly Well, But Not as Fast as Anticipated.

The cotton crop, which, like other sections, has been rather short around Gainesville, is coming into market fairly well, but not as much has been received here as was anticipated for this season. The receipts, however, are a little better than last year at the same period, about 100 bales having already been received, out of several hundred bales contracted for.

Since the destruction of the big Dutton gin by fire about two years ago, the market has been largely diverted to Alachua, which point is regarded today as the most important Sea Island cotton market in the State. Parties are still buying here, but in quantities less than formerly, owing to the inadequate ginning facilities.

WILL TAKE VACATION.

Captain Barker Will Visit Old Home
For First Time in Years.

Captain L. E. Barker, traffic manager of the Tampa and Jacksonville railway, accompanied by his good wife, will leave this morning for New York City, from whence they will proceed to their former home in Charlestown, N. H., and other points.

Captain Barker is enjoying his first visit to the old home, and the first vacation, in seven years, and naturally will appreciate his trip.

Captain and Mrs. Barker will be absent until about October 1, and friends wish them a delightful and beneficial sojourn.

The First National.

Attention is called to the statement of the First National Bank, which appears elsewhere in this issue. This bank, which is one of the oldest financial institutions in this section of the State, demonstrates by this magnificent statement, aggregating in the million mark, that it is being strengthened every day by the confidence being manifested in the conservative management, as no better can be found in the country. All Gainesville banks are strong, but the First National takes rank among the strongest and most influential in the State.

PEARY TELLS OF DASH TO THE WORLD'S TOP

Commander and His Party Spent Two Days at Pole.
One Life Was Lost on Trip.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—Commander Robert E. Peary's last and successful dash to the North Pole cost one human life, that of Professor Ross G. Marvin, who was drowned four days after the Pole had been discovered.

From Battle Harbor, Labrador, Commander Peary called a brief chronological history of his dash. According to his own statement, the explorers spent two days on the top of the world, arriving there on April 6, 1909, and leaving on April 7, after copious observations had been taken.

Peary's Brief Outline.

Commander Peary's brief outline as cabled here is as follows:

"July 6, 1908, left New York; July 17, left Cape Sydney; August 1, arrived at Cape York, Greenland; August 8, left Etah, Greenland; September 1, arrived at Cape Sheridan, Greenland; September 1 to February 15, wintered at Cape Sheridan; February 15, the sledge expedition left the 'Roosevelt'; March 1, expedition started north off Cape Columbia; March 2, passed the British record; March 2 to 11, delayed by open water; March 11, crossed 84th parallel; March 12 to 15, delayed by open water; March 18, crossed 85th parallel; March 23, passed Norwegian record, after encountering open water; March 24, passed Italian record; March 24 to 26, held up by open lead; March 27, crossed 87th parallel; March 28, passed American record; March 29, encountered open water; April 2, passed 88th parallel; April 4, crossed 89th parallel; April 6, reached North Pole; April 6 and 7, at North Pole, taking observations; April 7, left North Pole; April 23, reached Cape Columbia; April 27, reached 'Roosevelt'; July 18, Roosevelt left Cape Sheridan; August 8, passed Cape Sabine; August

"All the members of the expedition were in good health. Professor Marvin unfortunately was drowned on April 10, 45 miles north of Cape Columbia, while returning from 86 degrees, north latitude, in command of a supporting party."

PEARY AT BATTLE HARBOR.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Commander Peary is still at Battle Harbor. He is making slow progress southward toward North Sydney, Nova Scotia, from whence he will proceed to American ports. No further word has come from him to any quarter concerning the momentous controversy which has aroused Europe and America by his challenge of Cook's claim.

Dr. Cook is still at Copenhagen, the center of marked attention from dignitaries of the official and scientific world, but with diminishing prestige, owing to the cloud overcasting his glory since Peary's announcement and his dramatic challenge of Cook's exploit. What the corroborative data is on which the two explorers base their positions is still withheld, from Cook because of his determination to bide his own time in presenting his evidence and from Peary because he is still beyond the range of ready communication and of detailed knowledge of the various claims and conflicts.

Foreign comment, as expressed by the London and other metropolitan journals, while still highly wrought with mingled enthusiasm and doubt, is beginning to be tinged with flippancy and scorn.

Mob Aids Couple to Escape From Officers and Marry

ALBANY, Ga., Sept. 10.—Arrested by officers of the law on warrants issued by the family of the young lady, Miss Bessie Walters and Fleming Brooks, both of Ashburn, were rescued in the streets of Sylvester by a mob of a hundred sympathizers, placed in a carriage and started on their way to Albany while the officers were held in check.

Arriving at Albany, Brooks and Miss Walters went to the home of B. J. Mann, to whom they appealed for aid. Mann secured the services of Rev. T. H. Thompson, pastor of the First Methodist church, who performed the ceremony at 11 o'clock Wednesday night in the parlor of the Mann home.

There had been a strong parental objection to the match on the side of the young lady. All the plans of the young couple to wed were nipped in the bud. Wednesday they ran away from Ashburn, intending to marry at Sylvester, but there they were met by officers with warrants for their arrest. A crowd learned of their plight and took the law into their own hands, with the happy result as stated.

Mr. Brooks and his bride have returned to Ashburn in search of forgiveness.

Killed His Wife, Then Shot Self, While in Bed

FORT WORTH, Tex., Sept. 10.—Mrs. Jennie Hawkins was shot to death as she lay in bed early yesterday by her husband, J. E. Hawkins, after which he killed himself. Their home is in Glenwood.

Hawkins shot his wife when she refused to withdraw a divorce suit which she recently filed. He used a double-barreled shotgun, and her heart was pierced, she dying almost instantly. Hawkins then sat up in bed, put the gun against his breast and pushed the trigger with a broomstick. The charge killed him instantly and he fell across his wife's body.

Sheriff Snow later found the lifeless bodies. They leave four children.

Deserted Babe Found on Suwannee's Banks Is Dead

BRONSON, Sept. 10.—It is a true and pathetic story of Suwannee, the eight-months-old babe who died at the residence of T. C. Lancaster last week, after a few days' illness of fever. While leisurely strolling along the banks of the Suwannee river, in Levy county, last Christmas, Mr. and Mrs. Lancaster were attracted by the cries of a newly born babe and upon investigating found a bright blue-eyed boy who had been left to the mercy of wild animals by whom will no doubt always remain a mystery.

The babe was taken home by Mr. and Mrs. Lancaster and tenderly cared for, and they named him for the big river on whose banks he had been found. Suwannee grew fast, was pretty and bright and admired by all who saw him. Last spring a family from Alabama were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lancaster and greatly admired the babe, and as they were in better position to rear Suwannee than themselves, they consented for Suwannee to accompany them to their Alabama home. Not long ago the family returned to visit the Lancasters and while on their visit Suwannee was taken ill and passed over to the great beyond.

The body of Suwannee was tenderly laid to rest not far from the place where he was found eight months ago.

If Britain Owns the Pole It Will Certainly Be Taxed

LONDON, Sept. 9.—The question of the ownership of the land of the North Pole came up in the House of Commons yesterday, when Premier Asquith replied to Sir Gilbert Parker. The premier wanted to know if the latest information established the fact that there was land at the North Pole, as he understood that was not true. Sir Gilbert explained that he meant adjacent to the North Pole, and Mr.

Asquith suggested that he frame another question. Continuing, the premier, with a twinkle in his eye, went on to say that the question of possession of the Pole involved too much hypothetical matter to permit him to give a definite reply. If, however, it proved to be British territory, it certainly would be taxed as undeveloped land under the new finance bill.

MISSING PART OF BUT- CHERED BODY FOUND

OTHERS IMPLICATED IN MILLMAN
MURDER MYSTERY.

Officers Are Working Hard Upon Case, and Another Doctor May Be Arrested.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 10.—The missing portion of the body of Maybelle Millman of Ann Arbor, which had been cut up, packed in gunny sacks and thrown into Ecorse creek following the young woman's death after a surgical operation, was found late yesterday near Crosse Isle, where it had been washed ashore. The gruesome find was brought to Detroit and examined by Coroner Physicians, who announced that the girl undoubtedly had met her death on an operating table.

Sheriff Gaston declared that the theory upon which the authorities had been working to solve the mystery of Miss Millman's untimely death had been verified.

Sheriff Gaston late yesterday returned to Ann Arbor with Martha Henning, the chum of the dead girl whose statement to the police Wednesday resulted in the apprehension of Dr. George A. Fritch, who is still held. The arrest of another doctor is probable.

Miss Henning made a statement to Prosecuting Attorney Van Sell and Captain of Detectives McDonnell, in which the name of a second physician was mentioned. This statement resulted in the apprehension of a woman who formerly lived at Ann Arbor, who had advised Miss Millman to go to another physician. The woman was brought to police headquarters after Miss Henning had made her statement, and was spirited away to her home by detectives, after she had told her story.

Second Physician Protected.

She said that Maybelle Millman had told her of her trouble and that she had recommended her to her physician. The identity of this physician is guarded by the officers. Sheriff Gaston and deputies went to the Ann Arbor postoffice and examined records, but found nothing to give them any clue to the identity of a man who sent money through the mail to Miss Millman before she left her home for Detroit to meet her fate.

Miss Henning has told the authorities that she knew of Miss Millman's plight and that she had gone with her to Dr. Fritch's office. What happened after that the Henning girl declares she has no knowledge. She admits having gone to Dr. Fritch's office several days later and that she inquired for Miss Millman. Then, she avers, she was informed by the doctor that he knew nothing about the whereabouts of Miss Millman and that he had refused to accept her case.

The police are endeavoring to trace several letters said to have been written Miss Millman by students at the University of Michigan. They have the names of several young men, but so far have been unable to learn anything upon which to base charges.

BIG TURPENTINE DEAL.

P. M. Colson Disposes of His Interests at Micanopy to W. B. Baker.

A timber deal of considerable importance has been transacted in this county within the past two or three days, Perry M. Colson disposing of his entire naval stores and timber right at Micanopy to W. B. Baker of Eldridge, one of the largest and most successful operators in the State.

Mr. Baker is to be congratulated upon his new acquisition, which embraces some of the finest lands in this section, for both turpentine and mill purposes. There are at present twelve crops working, with plenty of timber to cut as many more.

Mr. Baker has already assumed charge of the new place and has a good force of men at work now. He has always been successful, and it is believed he will make a good thing financially out of the deal.

UNIVERSITY CONTRACTORS HERE.

Left Friday, After Looking Over Situation, and Will Soon Go to Work.

John J. Cain, general contractor for the two new buildings at the University of Florida, W. A. Edwards, the architect, and W. B. Guinarin, who have been at the Brown House for the past two or three days looking over the situation, left Friday for their respective homes in Columbia, S. C., and Atlanta, Ga., where they will remain a few days before going actively into the work of erecting the buildings.

While here these gentlemen went over the ground thoroughly, familiarizing themselves with the lines, etc., and will return within a few days and push the work rapidly to completion according to the plans and contracts.

Picnic a Success.

The picnic to Newnan's lake, given by and under the auspices of the Adventist church, was a great success, many taking advantage to spend a day delightfully on the romantic shores of this beautiful lake.

The day was all that could be desired, nature having been good enough to withhold her weeping, there was plenty of good things to eat and drink, and altogether the day was one which will long be remembered by those who were so fortunate as to participate.

Miss Jackson's Death.

Miss Irene McCreary received Friday information of the death of her friend, Miss Margaret Jackson, which occurred in Paragould, Ark., of paralysis, the result of typhoid fever, on Thursday night.

The information of Miss Jackson's death will be received here with a great deal of regret, as she was well-known and quite popular here. During her visit to Miss McCreary she was regarded as a social favorite among the young people.

OBITUARY.

On September 5, 1909, Lina E. Robinson, wife of Mr. F. A. Robinson, died at her home in Worthington, Fla., after an illness of only a few days.

Mrs. Robinson was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Jones of Rochelle, Alachua county, Fla., at which place she was born October 30, 1889. She was married November 9, 1908, and lived in Rochelle until May, 1909, when she moved to Worthington, with her husband.

She leaves to mourn for her a devoted husband, one little girl baby only a few days old, a father and mother, three sisters and one brother, besides a large number of other relatives and friends.

The death of Mrs. Robinson cast a deep gloom over the entire community, for she was held in the highest esteem by everybody. She was a member of the Rochelle Methodist church at the time of her death, and was not only faithful to her own church and Sunday school, but to other denominations. She was a woman of high ideals and noble character, which manifested itself in constant deeds of neighborliness and helpfulness toward those who were in need. She was always cheerful and scattered sunshine all around her, wherever she went. A good woman sometimes accomplishes more in her death than even in life—she being dead yet speaketh.

To have known, the deceased was to have loved her. She was loved, honored and respected by all who knew her, and she will be greatly missed, not only by her immediate family, but by everyone throughout the entire section.

We extend to the broken-hearted husband and each member of the family our deepest and most profound sympathy, and may the Supreme Ruler help them to bear up in this their sad hour of trouble.

As a wife she was kind and affectionate, as a neighbor she was always ready to lend a helping hand. We feel that her passing out was only falling asleep, and our loss is her eternal gain.

Her pastor conducted the funeral services in the Methodist church at Rochelle in the presence of a large gathering of friends whose hearts beat in genuine sympathy for the broken-hearted family. She was laid to rest in Oak Ridge Cemetery to await the call of her Savior on the resurrection morn, believing that her hope was stayed in God. 'Tis glorious to go into the presence of God, where the Lord Jesus has reigned supreme in life; 'tis consolation indeed to those who weep when they weep not as those who have no hope.

A place is vacant in their hearts,

A voice they loved is still;

A place is vacant in their home

Which never can be filled.

Call not back the dear departed,

Anchored safe where storms are o'er

On the border land we left you.

Soon to meet and part no more.

When we leave this world of changes,

When we leave this world of care,

We shall find those gone before us

In our Father's mansion fair.

A. M. CUSHMAN, Agent, Gainesville, Florida

CAPT. SAM TUCKER HAS PASSED AWAY

DEATH RELIEVED HIS SUFFERINGS EARLY FRIDAY.

Was Pioneer Citizen of County, With a Record Which Would Prove a Credit to Anyone.

One of the saddest deaths to occur in this city for some time was that of Captain Samuel C. Tucker, which occurred at his home in East Gainesville about 6 o'clock Friday morning, after a lingering but patient illness covering a period of several months.

Deceased was in his sixty-fifth year, his birthday coming last January. Ever since he reached the stage of manhood he has been a useful citizen, being very active in business and politics. He was born near Brooksville, but when quite young removed to this county, and was reared by his uncle, Samuel R. Pyles, near Newnansville.

At the beginning of the Civil War Captain Tucker was young and active and being a loyal Southerner, enlisted with Captain Rowe's company, Second Florida Cavalry, and was assigned to the responsible position of courier. During this great conflict he was present and aided materially in the transmission of important messages in several battles, among which was the famous battle of Olustee.

At the close of the war, after receiving an honorable parole by the Federal troops, deceased came to Gainesville, where he associated himself in the practice of law with Col. M. E. Thompson, at that time a well-known and successful attorney of this section. After a few years, in 1877, he was appointed sheriff of Alachua county by Governor Drew, which position he held for four years.

The term of office of sheriff having expired, Captain Tucker was no longer an applicant, but accepted a position as conductor on the Seaboard Air Line railroad, then the Florida Railway and Navigation Company, which he held with credit until he was appointed register of the United States land office with headquarters in Gainesville, under the first administration of Grover Cleveland, which position he filled with efficiency and credit.

sition he filled with efficiency and credit.

Deceased was married in 1867 to Miss Ella Denton, and five children were born to them. After a number of years his first devoted wife died, when he was later married to Mrs. Lois Beville, and to them one son was born.

After deciding to give up actual activity in life, the old desire for railroad work returned, and deceased accepted a position as conductor on the Gainesville & Gulf railroad, which position he filled with the greatest efficiency for some time, but was compelled to give up the work he so dearly loved on account of his failing eyesight. Since leaving the Gainesville and Gulf, he had led the quiet life, only looking after his farm when he felt disposed for a little exercise.

With the death of Captain Tucker, another of the old and faithful landmarks is gone. Always faithful and loyal to his section and his friends, his friends were numbered by the hundred throughout four counties, and his death, although expected, proved a great blow to his numerous friends and acquaintances.

Deceased is survived by a devoted wife and three children, Mrs. A. H. King of Jacksonville, Miss Clara Tucker and Randolph Tucker of this city, to whom the sympathy of friends is extended.

The funeral will be held this morning at 10 o'clock from the Episcopal church, deceased being a member of that church. The service will be conducted by Rev. Francis H. Craighill.

The funeral arrangements will be in charge of Dr. T. F. Thomas, and the following gentlemen are requested to act as pall-bearers, and will report at S. M. Davis' stables at 9 o'clock: J. A. Carlisle, J. W. Patton, W. C. Matheson, W. W. Hampton, John B. Dell, J. Maxey Dell.

From Mr. Graves.

Editor Sun: I believe a wrong impression has been created by an article in today's paper, relative to work upon the city's streets being stopped.

The Council passed, without dissent, upon the matter of cutting off, for thirty days, all street work except the two trash wagons, for the reason that our street fund, by heavy drafts made upon it from various sources outside of actual street work, was exhausted, and there was nothing else to do.

At the end of thirty days work will be resumed as heretofore, except voted otherwise. Respectfully,

H. S. GRAVES,
Chairman Street Com.
Gainesville, Fla., Sept. 10, 1919.

A Local Conundrum.

A certain commercial traveler who makes his headquarters in Gainesville, and who sometimes comes in late and tries to sleep in the morning, requests The Sun to publish this problem:

"What is the difference between a couple of cats howling and somebody running the scales on a piano at 5:30 o'clock in the morning, when the neighbors want to sleep?"

The commercial man answers the question in the same breath. There is no difference, except that the cats might be a relief.

RESEMBLED OLD TIMES.

A Six-Ox Team Came from Fairbanks Loaded Down With Cotton.

A most striking scene in comparison to modern times, when automobiles and other means of transportation are so common, was the team of six oxen, or three yokes, which drove through the streets Wednesday, the wagon, an old-time vehicle with high oak supports, reminding the pioneer citizens of the "good old days," when living was "living sure enough."

The team, which was owned and driven by a colored man, attracted a great deal of attention as it wended its way slowly, but surely, through the various thoroughfares of the city. The wagon was loaded with cotton, the product also the property of the owner of the team, whom we understand disposed of the staple at a fair price.

Many years ago, before Gainesville ever donned her city clothes, those teams were common on the streets, but of late years they have been relegated for something more modern. However, it did the old-timer good to look once more upon one of the scenes of former days.

It Wasn't Sam's Horse.

Sam Dell says it is a shame that Ed O'Neill should accuse him of owning such a horse as that which ran away Monday, and did not even have sufficient strength to make a first-class runaway, because there was not enough strength in the animal to make a show by turning the buggy over.

The Sun reported that it was Ben Arnow's horse, because the reporter had been told that it was; Mr. Arnow, through a friend, sent word that it was not his horse, but the animal belonged to Ed O'Neill; Ed O'Neill became "frustrated" at the statement, and declared that the horse belonged to Sam Dell.

Sam Dell met the reporter Friday morning, and was very desirous of "squaring" matters. He said in confidence that the horse belonged to Ed O'Neill, that the animal was twenty-five years old, and that, after driving it to the delivery wagon until all energy and vitality was gone, he is now desirous of trading "in any old way" to get something out of the deal.

"Why," said Sam, "if you had been looking you could have seen that the horse was not even physically able to make a show by turning over the buggy. When the animal reached a point on West Main street, south, the buggy to which it was attached came in contact with a jemison weed, which ended the excitement. Ed O'Neill wants to swap that horse, and I want to put my friends on guard."

When seen regarding the matter, Mr. O'Neill tried to crawl fish by stating that he stated the horse was the property of Chas. M. Dell, and not Sam Dell. Mr. Chas. M. Dell was not present at the time. It's up to Mr. Chas. M. Dell to explain this matter.

Testifies After Four Years.

Carlisle Center, N. Y., G. B. Barham, writes "About four years ago I wrote you that I had been entirely cured of kidney trouble by taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy, and after four years I am again pleased to state that I have never had any return of those symptoms, and I am evidently cured to stay cured." Foley's Kidney Remedy will do the same for you. J. W. McCollum & Co.

MR. ARNOW RESIGNS.

This Action Was Taken at Meeting of Council Last Night.

At an adjourned meeting of the City Council last night Benj. T. Arnow tendered his resignation of city marshal. At the same time Mayor Davis withdrew the charges which he preferred against Mr. Arnow, and upon which he was suspended from office a few days since.

It is understood that Mr. Arnow's action was the result of a desire to secure harmony among the city officials, and he thought best to tender his resignation, which was accepted.

Some little discussion followed regarding the calling of an election to elect a successor to Mr. Arnow, but as there seemed to be some doubt in the minds of the councilmen as to the law covering the matter it was decided to defer action until Mayor Davis can look into the same. In the meantime Harry Owens will fill the position of marshal.

The ideal home cannot exist in hotels and boarding-houses. The atmosphere of such places is destructive to home instincts. The home must have its own individuality, and for that it must have the power to close the door and shut itself within to cultivate its own privacy and sacredness.

C. E. Howard, who has made the editorial page of The Orlando Reporter-Star a popular pasture for Mr. Scissors of the Florida press, is to sever his connection with that journal in the near future, he having purchased The Orange County Citizen, at Winter Garden, which he will publish at Orlando on his own "hook."

The following from The Orlando Reporter-Star is timely: "It would be well for parents having school children who are out of town to get them back in time to start the term properly on the very first day. The right kind of a start at the right time means a great deal to the student and a delay of a few days or weeks does injury to themselves and the entire system."

The odd case of a woman worth $3,000,000 being unable to supply herself with provisions for lack of money has come to light in New York. The woman's fortune is in unimproved real estate which brings her no income, and she declines to sell any part of it. It is her own fault, therefore, that her larder is nearly empty most of the time. Land-stingy people of her sort do not deserve any sympathy. She can't use the land herself and she won't let anybody else use it.—Savannah News.

The St. Augustine Record makes announcement that, commencing October 1st, Fred M. Allen will assume the duties of city editor of that excellent paper, while F. A. Rollerton, who has held the position since The Record's first issue, ten years ago, will manage the advertising and circulation departments. Mr. Allen is widely-known throughout the State, having represented several leading papers at the last session of the Legislature and The Record is to be congratulated upon securing his services.

GROWERS INTERESTED.

The farmers of Alachua county are becoming interested in the Corn Contest being conducted by The Sun, with the result that specimens are now on display at this office that will dispel all doubt, should any exist, that the soil of Florida, and Alachua county in particular, will produce the best quality of the staff of life, and with the least labor and expense.

Two entries were made Thursday, and the specimens submitted in each instance are substantial testimonials of the fertility and productivity of the soil of this section.

B. H. Dupree of Arredondo submitted a stalk over eleven feet long containing two ears, each of which will weigh a pound. This corn was raised on the Holly plantation at Arredondo, and no fertilizer was used in its cultivation. It is of the White Prolific variety, first-year seed, and the soil upon which it grew has been cultivated for many years. Mr. Dupree has a crop of pinders upon the same land.

R. F. Ormond, who resides between Hawthorn and Campville, entered four stalks containing twelve well-developed and finely-matured ears. A portion of the corn is from White Prolific seed, while the other was grown from Ormond's Improved stock, the grower having experimented for several years in securing a variety that is especially adapted to the soil and which will at the same time produce a good yield. Mr. Ormond's corn was grown on pine land, a small quantity of fertilizer, mostly from the cow-pen and stable, being used. He states that many of the stalks in his field this year contained five and six ears, and the field over averaged between three and four ears to the stalk. He has a crop of pinders between the corn rows, and also has a splendid sweet potato crop, the yield of which is estimated at nearly a thousand bushels. Some of his sweet potato crop last year netted him $1.40 per bushel.

THE RAILROAD OUTLOOK.

While the public, still staggering from the financial troubles of the last quarter of 1907, was cheered less than a year later by optimistic utterances of the country's leading men, it was conceded by more conservative patriots that the real recovery from panic conditions would not become a certainty until at least a normal crop for 1909 was assured. This was discounted by the stock market prior to the first news from the grain and cotton fields, and perhaps even over-discounted, says The Wall Street Journal.

Nevertheless, it is now accepted as a fact that the great agricultural sections of the West and Northwest will harvest this fall what James J. Hill characterized on his latest visit here as a fair average crop. The cotton yield promises to be somewhat of a disappointment, but even 10,500,000 bales is still a pretty good sized crop and enough to insure the South's prosperity.

The extent to which this country is indebted each year to its crops can hardly be overestimated. Their significance as an index of prosperity is best appreciated by the railroads, for even those roads out of the direct line taken by grain and cotton shipments are made acutely aware of the condition of the staples by the rise and fall in their own traffic.

It is most gratifying to find the roads steadily gaining business with each succeeding week, for along a prosperous railroad must always lie a prosperous territory. Moreover, traffic such as is now being offered to the carriers means large orders for new locomotive and car equipment, with a resultant quickening of many industries.

Aggregate gross earnings of representative railroads, as reported to The Wall Street Journal overtook the totals for corresponding weeks of last year some time ago. But the summer of 1908 was not up to normal and favors the current year in a comparison. With 1907 it is different. In July of that year railroad gross earnings reached their highest point in history, and they continued exceptionally good, though gradually becoming lower, for several months following. It is welcome news to learn that gross revenues in the first week of August were almost up to those of the corresponding week in 1907, while in the second week the aggregate of the earlier year was actually overtaken and passed.

Combined earnings for July were not far behind those of 1907 and August continued the improvement. September should show an advance over that month in 1907, and subsequent months may mark a new high level in American railroad earnings. We shall have better data when the figures for October, always the highest point of the year for railroad earnings, are available.

A New York corporation to deal with hoboos is the latest. It is a fair inference that in the management of this corporation's affairs a great deal of watering would be not only beneficial, but even necessary.

SYSTEMIC CATARRH

One of many cases where Peruna has done what other remedies failed to do.

MR. C. A. LANDGRABE

Mr. C. A. Landgrabe, Box 25, Coalburg, Ohio, writes: "I had been a slight sufferer for a number of years, but paid little or no attention to it, until the spring of this year, when my sufferings became very severe.

"I had pain in the head, back, spine, liver, chest, and various parts of my body, besides indigestion that caused me much trouble and anxiety. I often thought when I retired at night I would not live through it. I tried medical aid, but to no purpose.

"Not knowing what was my main trouble I wrote to Dr. Hartman, after reading of his treatment, for advice, telling him of my various ailments, and he notified me at once that I had systemic catarrh.

"After using the first bottle of Peruna I felt relief, so I continued to use it until I had taken four bottles, when I felt entirely cured. I recommend it to all others, believing that they will experience the relief that I did."

Pe-ru-na as a Tonic.

Mr. William F. Hawkins, 12 West St., Westerly, R. I., writes:

"I wish to give my testimony in favor of Peruna as a tonic. I have used the same for catarrh, and can recommend it to all who are troubled in that way."

A Hungry Rabbit.

"I do not think I was ever so non-plussed in my life," said a conjurer, "as once when performing my card and rabbit trick. I ask a member of the audience to tear a card into small pieces and give them all to me except one. Later in the trick I produce a rabbit from a box, and tied round its neck is a card with a piece missing. It is then found that the piece which the member of the audience holds exactly fits and completes the second card. On this particular occasion I allowed the rabbit to remain in the box too long and when I produced him found that he had chewed the card round his neck to bits. Needless to say, the laughter when the audience grasped the trick the animal had played on me was loud and long."

As Walter Saw It.

Walter, aged seven, is a wise son who knows not only his own father, but his own mother likewise.

"Now, Walter," said the teacher, "if your father could do a piece of work in one hour and your mother could also do it in one hour, how long would it take both of them to do it together?"

"Three hours," replied the scholar without hesitation.

"Wrong!" said the teacher. "How do you make that?"

"Three hours," repeated Walter steadily, "counting the time they'd waste arguing about how it should be done."

Often The Kidneys Are

Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for much sickness and suffering, therefore, if kidney trouble is permitted to continue, serious results are most likely to follow. Your other organs may need attention, but your kidneys must, because they do most and should have attention first. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. A trial will convince you of its great merit.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest because its remarkable health restoring properties have been proven in thousands of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

NORTH WOODS INDIANS.

Natives Who Helped the Whites Across the Upper Wilderness.

It was the North woods Indians who led the white race across the upper wilderness trails and helped that race to get and to hold its footing there. As the lower tribes, such as the Iroquois, were allies of Great Britain in war, so the people north of the great lakes were the allies of that country in industry. Without the sturdy voyagers of the north, half Indian at least, the fur trade could not have been.

If you read the story of Sir George Simpson, of David Thompson, of Sir Alexander Mackenzie, of Harmon, of Hearne, of Alexander Henry the younger—indeed, of any of the early or late explorers of Hudson bay or the old Northwest company—always you will find that the real man behind the pack and paddle was this northern native. Perhaps he was not full blood. Indeed, for the most part the typical voyager was not. From the time of Greyson du Rut on down, wild white blood has merged with wild red blood.

The first fur traders on both sides our territorial line got on very well, for there was much marriage according to the laws of the aboriginal world, and the tendency was for the two races to dwell in harmony. It was the water, cows and plows that broke up the game.—Emerson Hough in Recreation.

The Captain Settled the Account Before His Vessel Sailed.

In Burnaby's "Travels in America in 1759," a book quite popular during the latter part of the eighteenth century, the following incident is related: The captain of a British man-of-war cruising off the Massachusetts coast left his wife in Boston. On one of his visits to port she came down to the wharf to meet him, and she was saluted as a true and loving sailor's wife deserved. This violation of law was at once reported, and the captain was brought before the magistrate and sentenced to be publicly whipped. There was no getting out of it, and the captain submitted quite gracefully.

Just before the departure of his ship he gave an elaborate entertainment, to which all of the magistrates were invited. After the festivities were over and every one had shaken hands with the captain and was going over the side the magistrates were seized by the arm and stripped to the waist. Each one was led to the gangway, where a vigorous boatswain gave him thirty-nine lashes on the bare back and then hustled him over into a boat amid the cheers of the whole ship's company.

How Tobacco Got Its Name.

The origin of the word tobacco is not definitely settled. Oviedo, one of the early Spanish chroniclers, says it was named after a Y shaped instrument which was commonly used as a snuffing tube. The two prongs were placed in the nose, and fumes of the powdered leaf were inhaled. This was called "tobaco," which was the name given to the plant. On the contrary, one of the islands of the West Indies is said to have furnished the name. It is asserted that tobacco was first taken into Spain in 1558 by Fernandez, a physician, who had been sent by Philip II. of Spain to investigate the products of Mexico. It next reached Portugal, was soon introduced into France by the French ambassador, Jean Nicot, and sent to the Portuguese court in 1559. When he returned to his home he presented some of the seed and leaves to Queen Catherine de' Medici, and the scientific name of the plant was thereafter designated as "nicotine" in his honor.

INDIGESTION?

THE SAFFRON PLANT.

It Is Among the Very Oldest of the Vegetable Products.

The particular species of crocus that has from time immemorial been cultivated for its dried stigmas, a product known under the name of saffron, is Crocus sativus, which is wild from Italy to Kurdistan. Saffron may be reckoned among the very oldest of vegetable products, being alluded to in the Song of Solomon among other spices of Lebanon. The name crocus is Chaldean or Greek and was first used by Theophrastus of Eresus about 350 B. C., and that it was a well known and admired flower in Greece soon afterward is shown by Sophocles, who mentions the "crocus of golden beam" in his "Cedipus at Colonus."

The word saffron seems to be a corruption of the Arabic name "al zahafaran," and the product itself was first imported into England as a spice or condiment, being also used as a color or dye for silks and other fabrics of the eastern looms.

At a later date, exactly when is not known, the plant itself was cultivated in England, more especially in Essex, in which county the name of Saffron Walden remains in evidence of the fact. Again, we have in London Saffron hill, which formerly was a site included in the bishop of Ely's garden at Holborn, once famous for its saffron beds as well as for its strawberries. Today, however, saffron is but little used.—London Chronicle.

SUGAR AND CANDY.

Satisfy the Cravings of the Children For Sweets.

Children may eat too much sugar, and they may also stay too long in their bathtub, or in the creek when they go in swimming, or get tanned or a headache from playing too long in the sun, or chilled by staying too long in the open air, but is that any sound reason why they should be deprived of sweets, sunlight, baths and fresh air or discouraged from indulging in them?

All that is needed, says Dr. Woods Hutchinson in Success Magazine, is a little common sense regulation and judicious supervision, not prohibition or denunciation. Most of the extraordinary craving for pure sugar and candy, which is supposed to lead the average child to inevitably "founder himself" if left to his own sweet will and a box of candy, is due to a state of artificial and abnormal sugar starvation, produced by an insufficient amount of this invaluable food in its regular diet.

Children who are given plenty of sugar on their mush, bread and butter and puddings, a regular allowance of cake and plenty of sweet fruits are almost free from this craze for candy, this tendency to gorge themselves to surfeit, and can usually be trusted with both the candy box and the sugar bowl.

"What was the best job you ever did?" inquired the first barber.

"I once shaved a man," replied the second ditto.

"Well?"

"Well, then I persuaded him to have a hair cut, sing, shampoo, face massage, sea foam, electric buzz, tar spray and finally a tonic rub."

"What then?"

"By that time," concluded barber No. 2, "he needed another shave."

Parker House Rolls.

Materials.—Three tablespoonfuls of butter, one teaspoonful of salt, one-half cupful of lukewarm water, one yeast cake, two cupfuls of new milk, one tablespoonful of sugar, two egg whites and six cupfuls of flour.

Way of Preparing.—Scald the milk and add to it the sugar, salt and butter. Let stand until lukewarm, then add three cupfuls of flour and beat for five minutes. Add the dissolved yeast and let stand until it is a very light, frothy mass, then add the egg whites, beaten to a stiff froth, and the remaining flour. Let rise again until it is twice its original bulk, place on your molding board, knead lightly and then roll into a sheet half an inch thick. Take a large biscuit cutter and cut the dough into rounds. Brush with melted butter, fold over and press the edges together. Place in a buttered pan one inch apart. Let rise until very light and bake in a hot oven fifteen minutes.—National Food Magazine.

A Duck of a Man.

Ellen Terry and Mr. Balfour met for the first time at the table of Henry W. Lucy in London. During the ensuing conversation Miss Terry remained strangely silent. Presently the Unionist leader had to leave for the house of commons, and Ellen Terry at last found her tongue. Her host was relieved to find that she had not been bored. Bringing her closed hand down on the table, she exclaimed with a glance toward the door through which Mr. Balfour had passed, "I think that's a duck of a man!"

Advantages.

"I suppose you are glad to be free again?"

The ex-convict sidestepped a trolley car, dodged an auto and looked nervously toward a clanging ambulance.

"Oh, of course, of course," he said. "But let me tell you a man in prison feels mighty safe."—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Drawback.

"Your ocean trip was pretty nice, I suppose?"

"Oh, yes."

"Saw icebergs and such things, eh?"

"Yes, but I missed the billboards, I can tell you."—Washington Herald.

"That Which Is Worth Having Is Worth Advertising For"

The old adage that what is worth having is worth asking for is still true—true of the more intricate life of today.

The thing you want—whether it is a used piano or a home, whether it is a ready-made business or a lost pocket-book—is obtained readily through advertising, and with difficulty, or not at all, through other means.

FAMILY CURED OF SKIN TROUBLES

Two Little Girls had Eczema Very Badly—In One Case Child's Hair Came Out and Left Bare Patches—Father's Head Sore from Childhood—In All Three Cases

CUTICURA MET WITH ITS USUAL SUCCESS

"I have two little girls who have been troubled very badly with eczema. One of them had it on her lower limbs. I did everything that I could hear of for her, but it did not give in until warm weather when it seemingly subsided. The next winter when it became cold weather the eczema started again and also in her head where it would take the hair out and leave bare patches as large as a quarter of a dollar. At the same time her arms were sore the whole length of them. I took her to a physician and he said that she had two distinct types of eczema. I continued with him for several weeks and the child grew worse all of the time. Her sister's arms were also affected in the same way. My husband came home one day with a box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Cuticura Soap. I began using them and also the Cuticura Pills and by the time the second lot was used their skin was soft and smooth as it had not been before for the winter. We keep the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment constantly by us and when any little roughness or irritation appears on their skin I quickly dispel it with the Cuticura Remedies. My husband has used them with most satisfactory results for a sore head which has troubled him from childhood. Mrs. Charles Baker, Albion, Me., Sept. 21, 1908."

Cuticura Ointment is one of the most successful remedies for torturing, disfiguring humors of the skin and scalp, including loss of hair, of infants, children and adults, ever compounded, in proof of which a single anointing with it, preceded by a hot bath with Cuticura Soap, and followed by mild doses of Cuticura Pills, is often sufficient to afford immediate relief in the most distressing forms of itching, burning and scaly humors, eczemas, irritations and inflammations, permit rest and sleep and point to a speedy cure when all else fails.

Cuticura Soap (25c), Ointment (50c), Resolvent (50c), and Chocolate Coated Pills (25c), are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., 157 Columbus Ave., Boston. 6¢ Mailed Free. Cuticura Book on Skin Diseases.

Balancing an Egg.

All the world knows how Columbus on a historic occasion made an egg stand on end. After many learned theories had been advanced on balancing the egg he set the egg on end by, of course, mashing down hard enough to form a base, but the problem is capable of still another solution. It is an easy matter to set an egg on a plate, for instance, if you know how. The trick is impossible until the egg has been boiled in an upright position. The position of the hardened yoke at the end of the shell lowers the center of gravity until the sphere can be spun or even balanced with ease.

GAINESVILLE, —THE— University City.

Gainesville is conceded to be the most enterprising as well as the most beautiful city in the interior of Florida. It is located in the very center of the State, half way between the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, surrounded by lands of such fertility as to be capable of producing a great variety of crops; in the heart of the truck-growing, phosphate and naval stores belt. She has the best educational advantages in the State, good churches, with edifices which are superior to any town of its size in Florida, with large and consistent congregations; has a climate which cannot be excelled for health and pleasure. All these natural advantages, combined with a progressive and enterprising cosmopolitan citizenship, are sure to make a big city.

There are many natural attractions in close proximity to the city, some of which are Alachua Sink, Paine's Prairie, the Devil's Mill Hopper, Warren's Cave, and Lake Newnan, all of which are reached by private conveyance.

Spring Park Stock Farm, the largest and finest live stock farm in the State, is only eight miles west of the city and is reached by a good hard road, affording a most pleasant drive.

The farmers of Alachua county, of which Gainesville is the county seat, "live at home and board at the same place." The temperature is very uniform, scarcely ever reaching the nineties in summer or the twenties in winter. The population of Gainesville is about eight thousand, representing nearly every nationality on the face of the earth, and strangers always meet with a hearty welcome.

The University of Florida for young men and the National Agricultural Experiment Station are located within the corporate limits of the city. In fact, Gainesville has so many things that we must be pardoned if we omit a few of them in the following enumeration of what

The new residence contains about ten rooms, and is one of the handsomest and most modern in the city. It is provided with every modern convenience, including a screened room on the front which will be occupied by Mr. Colson.

Mrs. W. B. Taylor and daughter, Miss Elizabeth, left yesterday for Atlanta, Ga., where arrangements will be made to place Miss Elizabeth in college. From Atlanta Mrs. Taylor will proceed to Birmingham and other points, where she will be the guest of relatives and friends for the next few weeks. Miss Elizabeth is a social favorite among the younger element of the city, and will be greatly missed by her friends, who will anticipate with interest her return.

Miss Annie DaCosta, for several years one of the efficient teachers in the Gainesville Graded and High School, has gone to Fort Myers, where she has accepted a position as first assistant in one of the best schools in Lee county. Miss DaCosta has many friends in this city, not only among the "grown-ups," but the young people with whom she has been associated by virtue of her position, and all regret very much to see her leave, but wish her much success in her new field.

L. W. Fennell, for many years the efficient sheriff of this county, but now residing on his farm at Hawthorn, left Thursday for his home, after a pleasant visit to his daughter, Mrs. Geo. S. Waldo, here. Mrs. Fennell, who accompanied him to Gainesville, will remain here for some time, while Mr. Fennell will spend a few days at White Springs for the benefit of his health, which has been none too good for the past three months. Friends will be glad to learn, however, that he is very much improved.

To Be Happy

You must have good health. You can't have good health if your liver is not doing its duty—slow but sure poisoning is going on all the time under such circumstances. Ballard's Liver Pills makes a perfectly healthy liver—keeps the stomach and bowels right and acts as a tonic for the entire system. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Dutton Bank Demonstration.

The public demonstration of the burglar alarm system of the Dutton Bank will be held today, which will be an exhibition of the great advancement of protection to depositors of banks in this section of the country. The system is an absolute guarantee of protection against loss by burglary, as an automatic machine "sets the wheels to work" as soon as a vital point in the construction of the vault is reached.

The demonstration will begin at 10 o'clock and will last at intervals until the closing of the bank, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The public is invited, especially the ladies, and all will be presented with a handsome metal souvenir—not a new Abraham Lincoln penny, but something handsome and useful.

Take care of your stomach. Let Kodol digest all the food you eat, for that is what Kodol does. Every tablespoonful of Kodol digests 2 1/4 pounds of food. Try it today. It is guaranteed to relieve you or your money back. Sold by all druggists.

If it's printed stationery you want The Sun office is the place to get it.
